

Empowering Underserved Women in Honduras with Microfinance

Honduras ranks as one of the poorest countries in Latin America, with over 65% of its population living below the poverty line. Women are particularly vulnerable and face daily challenges like food insecurity and health issues tied to low household income. For 25 years, Adelante has supported on average 5,000 Honduran women annually, providing microloans and training to help them launch and grow micro and small businesses, escape generational poverty, build resilience, improve health, and lead more empowered lives.

What?

Adelante Foundation is a 501(c)3 and works in tandem with locally registered implementing arm in Honduras.

Where?

Adelante has five branch offices located in some of the most impoverished areas in Honduras.

Why?

Microfinance is not charity – it empowers women to pursue opportunities. Entrepreneurs retain ownership of goals and accomplishments and experience sustainable economic development.

Adelante Foundation - By the Numbers

Financial Literacy Training Topics

- Pre-loan training
- Financial Management
- Personal and Professional Formation
- Creative/Artisan Business Opportunities
- Agricultural Technical Assistance
- Technology
- Food Industry
- Sewing
- Health
- Debt financing

Adelante Loan Products

Individual

Group

Agriculture

Education

WASH

Home

Loans range from $25 - $2,500 and are subject to 3-5% interest to cover operational costs & ensure program sustainability